

Prof. Dr. med. Jochen Hinkelbein, D.E.S.A., E.D.I.C., F.As.M.A. was born in 1974 in Germersheim, Germany. After studying at Heidelberg University, he worked as anaesthesiologist at the University Hospital Mannheim (Germany) and is currently employed at the University Hospital of Cologne in the Department of Anaesthesiology and Intensive Care Medicine.

He is specialist for Anaesthesiology, Intensive Care Medicine, and Emergency Medicine. Jochen Hinkelbein is working as scientist and researcher in the field of Anaesthesiology, protein biochemistry, Proteomics as well as in aviation and space medicine related topics.

Starting in 2017, he is President of the German Society of Aerospace Medicine (DGLRM).

He is also Treasurer of the European Society of Aerospace Medicine (ESAM) since 2015 and chairman of the ESAM Space Medicine Group since 2018.